FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 29, 1878

Vice Regal Traveling.

The correspondent of the New York Herald who is accompanying the new Governor General of Canada on his way to Ottawa, says that, at Halifax, on entering the car prepared ex clusively for the Governor General and the Princess the latter uttered an exclamation of pleasure at the preparation made for her comfort and convenience, as well as she might. The rest of the train then backed down and connected with the car, which thus occupied a position at the rear. Then the rignal was given for starting and at the oppointed time the depart ure occurred. The crowd in and outside of the depot were cheering and waving hats and hand kerchiefs in the wildest manner. For a few minutes the Marquis and the Princess were left alone in their private quarters. Then the Marquis stepped into a Paliman car in front and joined his suite, leaving the Princess alone reading. She was attired in a black satin pelisse, trimmed with fur; a hat trimmed likewise, a dress of black cloth and satin-in all arich and handsome costune. Directions were given that then and on the entire journey neither the Marquis nor the Princess should be disturbed in their car without a previous announcement, and that all wishes there would be made known by the sound of a bell.

In less than fifteen minutes after the train left the station the Marquis expressed a desire to pass through the train, and especially to visit and have introduced to him the members of the Colonel Littleton preceded him. Therefore and firthwith in the press car was heard the announcement, "His Excellency, the Governor General." As the Marquis appeared all present aros to their feet, bats were removed and the Marquis, himself uccovered, walked slowly through the car. He was iniro. duced to each gentleman in turn and said some pleasant words to a few of them. On retiring he was greeted, at the instance of a Canadian correspondent, with three cheers and a tiger. The "Brevoort" (the dining car) is very long, rides upon sixteen wheels, eight at each end, and rests upon the most improved pattern of trucks. The cooking range, situated at the end of the car, is compact, six feet by about eight, and about four feet broad. The icebox, a model of neatness, is as convenient as ingenuity can make it. Lockers containing cooking utensils are at hand, tubular boilers, elongated, run across the roof of the cooking department, while at the cook's back, as he stands facing the range, is the steam table for joints. The whole is cut off from the dining room by a small pantry, through which the joints are handed to the waiter, and not a particle of heat escapes into the dining room. Tables are placed on each side of the car, and the castors are held in a niche in the sides much in the same manner as the lamps in the ordinary Pullman car. The car seats forty people and is one of the best on the lines. It has been running upon the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road, between Viliska and Council Bluffs, but has been remodelled for the use of their Excellencies, painted, magnificently lighted and fur-
